Ishaan Niranjana
Team Co-Lead
Mission Somaya

Subject: Regarding indefinite postponement of SOMAYA I.

Dear Mr. Niranjana,

This letter serves as formal notice that, effective 11 September 2026, The ZSMC Co. is indefinitely postponing its participation in Mission SOMAYA I (Flight SOMAYA I), being undertaken under the collaboration between Simplicity AI and The ZSMC Co.

This decision has been made following an internal assessment of the project's current requirements and The ZSMC Co.'s available project bandwidth and manpower. Given the scope and complexity of a lunar mission, including the associated technical, operational, organizational, and legal considerations, The ZSMC Co. has determined that continuing active participation at this stage would not be responsible without adequate resources and capacity.

Accordingly, The ZSMC Co. will, until further notice:

1. cease active organizational participation in Mission SOMAYA I;
2. not undertake new project commitments or deliverables for the mission on behalf of The ZSMC Co.;
3. not represent itself as an actively participating organizational partner in ongoing mission activities; and
4. retain the option to reassess its participation at a later date, subject to internal review and appropriate approvals.

This notice does not prevent Simplicity AI or its team from independently continuing work on SOMAYA I. Any such continuation shall be undertaken at the discretion and responsibility of the relevant team members and shall not be construed as active participation or endorsement by The ZSMC Co. unless separately confirmed in writing.

Individual members of The ZSMC Co. may, at their own discretion and subject to their availability and existing responsibilities, continue to discuss high-level technical or conceptual matters relating to SOMAYA I. Such discussions shall not constitute a commitment by The ZSMC Co. to resume participation in the mission.

This postponement is intended to ensure that any future work undertaken by The ZSMC Co. on SOMAYA I can be conducted with appropriate manpower, project capacity, technical preparation, and attention to applicable legal and organizational requirements, rather than being undertaken prematurely.

The status of The ZSMC Co.'s participation may be reviewed in the future. Any decision to resume participation will be communicated separately and in writing.

Kindly acknowledge receipt of this notice for the organization's records.

Thanking,
Yours sincerely
